KEMIJÄRVI

ON THE SHORES OF HAPPINESS

Kemijärvi beckons you to immerse yourself in Lapland's magnificent lake district, rugged highlands, handsome fells and calming wilderness. Happiness in Kemijärvi lies in its pure nature and local way of life, that concentrates on the true essence of quality living. Fresh fish, pike, pikeperch and perch are brought to the dinner table right from your own shore, and you can pick bilberries from your surroundings to bake a delicious bilberry pie. Whether it's food or living in general, life in Kemijärvi is uncomplicated and this creates happiness, naturally.

Wild berries you can pick yourself are the best packed lunches ever

Happiness on the jetty surrounded by water and highlands.

HAPPY VILLAGES

AUTHENTIC LOCAL EXPERIENCES

Already 7,000 years of happy living. The closeness of water and forests and the elements of good living they provide: fishing, hunting and berry-picking opportunities and other natural produce have attracted people to the Happy Villages since the Stone Age times to today. The long and rich history is evident in the housing, culture and various events of the Happy Villages.

Late summer and autumn are the best times for experiencing natural produce.

Kemijärvi's Happy Villages are all located in Lapland's Lake District right by the water. Sandy shores invite you to relax as the sun heats the sand you step on, while lakes invite you to fish and enjoy the gently sound of rippling water as you sail with a boat. The lakes freeze over in the winter and are covered with snow, creating a magical snowscape. Wintertime moments of happiness in Lapland's Lake District are the liberating feeling skiing over frozen lakes and ice fishing moments.

Each Happy Village has its own peculiarities and idyllic characteristics, best experienced by visiting the villages yourself.

Warm summer evenings are enjoyed on sandy shores with friends.

Compared to the size of the village, Soppela is a significant hub for reindeer herding and reindeer husbandry professionals.
